FAIR COMMISSION MUST HAVE AT LEAST $200,000

Businessmen Inspect Building Site And General Plans Of San Francisco Exposition, And Say Territory Must Prepare To Spend Liberally

Prominent Honolulu businessmen and architects who have recently visited the San Francisco exposition site, are coming back to Hawaii with the declaration that this Territory must be prepared to spend at least $200,000, probably fifty or a hundred thousand more, and possibly up to half a million on the exhibition building and exhibits at the great international fair.

Some weeks ago W. H. McDermott, recently returned from the promotion committee but still a member of the finance committee of the fair commission, E. A. Berget, and Marshall H. Webb, of Emory & Webb, architects, were all in San Francisco and all inspecting the exposition grounds and the spot where Hawaii's building is to be erected.

"And," says Mr. Berget, in telling of the matter this morning, "we all agreed that Hawaii cannot possibly make any kind of a showing there on less than $200,000, and we could spend half a million to good advantage."

A fair showing of commission, as shown by Hawaii to handle this territory's exhibit, made an estimate in which they said they must have at least $175,000. For some weeks the question of the size of the fund was being discussed, and at that time some of the business men of Honolulu stated that they thought the commission ought to get along on $100,000.

After that time Hawaii's site has been virtually abandoned, and the participation of many foreign countries assured, the great undertaking is well under way, and Hawaii's business men who have visited the fair are coming home with reports that this Territory will be required to have at least $200,000.

When Mr. Berget was in San Francisco, Mr. Webb was there looking over the proposed site of the Hawaii building. Emory & Webb will be making the architectural plans to submit to the board of the fair, after an expert consideration of the site and what other plans or countries are preparing to do. Mr. Webb came to the conclusion that the Hawaii exhibit cannot be financed on less than $200,000.

Within the next few weeks the exposition commission will begin a campaign that will come to fruition during the legislative session next spring, at which time the commission will submit a lengthy report and outline its needs. Chairman H. P. Wood

IMPORTANT SALE ON UNION ST.

It May Affect the Project of the Extension of Bishop Street

H. Wilhelm Walters has bought from Simpson Decker and wife the property at Union street and Adams street, containing 2917 square feet, for $10,000. There is a building on the premises, and the land is on the line of the proposed Bishop street extension. Mr. Decker bought the property from Dr. Walter Hoffmann two years ago last May.

Mr. Walters, being on the federal grand jury, could not be seen this afternoon, but R. R. Redford, manager of Bishop Trust Co., Ltd., through which the sale was made, when asked whether it would facilitate or complicate the Bishop street extension, said: "I think it should facilitate it, inasmuch as it reduces the number of owners for the territorial government is negotiating with. The price is approximately the same as the amount that Mr. Decker agreed to convey the property to the government for."

GENERAL MACOMB MACHINE GUN MARKSMAN

Department Commander Takes a Hand in the Firing and Makes Excellent Record with New Type Automatic Rifles, Tests Crowned with Success

If the mortars of Fort Ruger are the buildings of modern ordinance, then the machine guns of Schofield Barracks should be styled the rat-terriers. Snapping and snarling at the feet of an invader, attacking when least expected, barring progress until support arrives, and making it generally dangerous and unpleasant to all trespassers, the terrific automatics have proved their worth in the tests which were completed yesterday at Schofield Barracks.

That the organization of a board of officers to work out problems of attack and defense for automatic rifles, and the construction of the three platoons at Schofield into one, was a task of machine gun company, has been productive of splendid results, is an indisputable fact. Not only has this company opened up the possibilities of the guns, but it has shown just where their efficiency could be increased by minor changes of mechanism and equipment, and probably valuable recommendations will be contained in the report of the board, which will be made to Colonel Macomb, and forwarded through department channels to the War Department.

General Macomb, the department commander, was an interested observer of yesterday's machine gun problems. The heavy rain in town, toned down to a light drizzle at Lohela, but in spite of the inclement weather General Macomb was anxious to proceed with the tests, and wound up a morning of most interesting target work by himself sighting and firing

MEDICOS WILL DISCUSS VITAL ISSUES HERE

Gathering for the twenty-first annual session of the Medical Society of Hawaii, physicians of the Territory will consider matters of extreme importance to the health and sanitation of Honolulu and other cities and towns in the Territory.

The sessions begin at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the University Club, and will continue on Sunday and Monday. The full program was announced this afternoon by the committee on arrangements, consisting of Drs. J. R. Judd, A. N. Sinclair and F. R. Marshall. There are some ninety members of the association, of whom thirty are outside members. The program announced today by the committee follows:

1—The President's opening address, which will be followed by the reading of papers, will take place at the University Club on Saturday, November 23, at 2 p. m. In the evening at 8 o'clock, the reading and discussion of papers will be continued.

2—A picnic luncheon will be given on Sunday, November 24, 1 p. m., at Dr. C. B. Cooper's Kahala beach cottage.

3—The reading and discussion of papers will be resumed and concluded on Monday, November 25, at 2 p. m., at the University Club. On Monday evening at 7 o'clock, a banquet will be given at the Country Club.

Transportation to Dr. Cooper's cottage at Kahala will be arranged for by the committee.

PACIFIC MAIL PLANS 5-DAY SERVICE HERE

Swift Vessel to Cut Time Between San Francisco and Honolulu

FREY TELLS LOCAL MEN ACTION EXPECTED SOON

Assistant to Schwerin Assures Businessmen May Hope for New Vessel

Plans are under consideration by the Pacific Mail Steamship Company directorate for a five-day steamer that will ply between Honolulu and the mainland.

For some time past there has been vague rumors that the Pacific Mail was contemplating faster steamers than the present boats, but nothing definite as to the plans were revealed. The information that a five-day service will probably be inaugurated comes direct from the "higher-ups" of the line.

Mr. A. J. Frey, who is assistant to Vice-president and General Manager Schwerin, was a passenger on the Manchuria on her last trip out from San Francisco, passing through Honolulu a week ago. Frey, in conversation with some prominent Honolulu businessmen who are interested in faster passenger service, here stated that the Pacific Mail directors have under consideration a set of plans for a swift freight and passenger steamer that will make the San Francisco-Honolulu trip in a maximum of five days' steaming.

Frey did not stop long in Honolulu, but continued his trip to the Orient, where he is going on important business for the company.

In his conversation with several Honolulu men Frey mentioned that the directors are very favorably disposed toward the plans for the speedy steamer, and that early action to let the contract for the construction is to be expected.

TWO SEAMEN OF SCHOONER OVERBOARD

After encountering one of the worst storms in years and losing two sailors the Schooner Sehomo Captain John Piltz arrived from Grays Harbor shortly after noon today with practically her entire cargo of lumber intact.

The ship sailed out of Grays Harbor October 21. Three days later on October 24 she met one of the worst storms Captain Piltz who has been on this run for a number of years says has ever experienced.

As they saw the storm advancing, the sailors were sent aloft to furl the sails, and two of these, John Petersen and G. Anderson, were washed overboard by a giant wave that washed the deck from stem to stern. The two men were not seen again.

Captain Piltz reports that none of the deck's cargo was lost.

Captain Piltz declared that in all his seafaring career he has never met with worse weather than that experienced on the voyage from the Washington lumber port to the islands. The first day after leaving the bar the Schooner bucked through fierce gales and mountainous seas.

The vessel safely rode out gales which at times threatened to dislodge her deck cargo.

The vessel arrived here today with approximately $16,000 feet of lumber consigned to Allen & Robinson of this city.

Both Petersen and Anderson, the men who were washed overboard, were making their first trip to the islands in the Sehomo.

According to Captain Piltz, who is a brother to the well-known inter-island skipper and an uncle to the master of the little schooner, Florence Ward, the Sehomo met with the most contrary winds. The gale would not only shift from the southeast to the southwest, necessitating the attempt to make the passage to the islands under reefed sails.

The only let-up in the succession of seas and gales was experienced yesterday as the schooner neared the islands.

A birthday cake recently given to Roosevelt was six feet across. On the top was a miniature driveway leading to the White House in the center, where an eight inch automobile stood before the door and Roosevelt was sitting in the machine to enter the capital. The roadway was lit with electric lights, one for each state.

Hawaii Will Be Asked To Enter In Great Regatta

(Special Star-Bulletin Cable)

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., November 22.—Sir Thomas Lipton, who is here on a visit today advised the Panama-Pacific exposition officials to invite all the yachtsmen of the world to participate in a monster international regatta here during the exposition in 1915.

The great British amateur sportsman arrived here from Seattle, where his plan has been outlined to northwestern yachtsmen, and was given a hearty reception here. Miller Friedman, of Seattle, yachting and motor boat enthusiast, S. A. Perkins, commodore of the Tacoma Yacht Club, and T. Wise, of Portland, constituted a committee that came from the north to attend today's conference.

The regatta will be for both sailing-craft and power boats, and will extend over from three days to a week. In the course of the discussion, it was suggested that the yachtsmen of Hawaii who have been interested in the trans-Pacific races would probably send a yacht to race here in a suitable class.

Sir Thomas declared that the German Emperor and the King of Spain, both enthusiastic yachtsmen, could be counted upon to endorse the idea, and he believed Australia would send its fleetest craft to race against rival nations.

"OPEN SEASON" NOW FOR CABINET POSSIBILITIES

Nearly Everybody You Can Think of Has Been Mentioned for Job

By C. S. ALBERT

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 11.—Nearly every native born or naturalized American citizen has been mentioned as a Cabinet possibility since the election of Governor Wilson. The list runs all the way from William J. Bryan to Booker T. Washington, the negro educator. It covers every condition and station in life, well illustrating how nimble the work of guessers may be.

All this has greatly irritated Governor Wilson. Some of the proposed selections were so improbable and others so crude that the President came out flatfooted and rebuked those who are speculating on his selections as Cabinet Ministers. He declared it to be a matter for solemn consideration and not offhand speculation. He declared there would be no limitation of any selections until after January 1. In the meantime, he would theatrically take to the woods by going to the Bermudas and think things over by himself.

The disgruntlement of the President-elect will not stop the Cabinet-makers. It will have no effect whatever upon them. They will continue to daily put forth new slates and make Governor Wilson imagine he is back in the primitive days of his career as a school teacher.

None of the Cabinets thus far mentioned have contained much heavy timber. In addition to Bryan for Secretary of State, the best bets have been Senator O'Gorman for Attorney General and Josephus Daniels for Secretary of the Interior or Postmaster-General. Dr. Harvey W. Wiley has appeared in every slate as Secretary of Agriculture.

Every Democratic member of Congress who has arrived here up to this time strongly favors an extraordinary session of Congress to take up the question of tariff revision. They say no other course is open to Governor Wilson and failure to recognize the popular will would prove damage at the very outset of his executive career.

HERB DOCTOR KEEPS LICENSE

Chu Fong, the Chinese doctor, still retains his license, though it remains in jeopardy. He was present at the meeting of the territorial board of health yesterday afternoon with Judge Quarles as counsel, but the question of revoking his license was not taken up because a complete board membership was not there. It will be disposed of at some later session.

The board yesterday authorized the appointment of F. W. Taylor as birth and death registrar for North Hill, to take the place vacated by Archer Irwin, elected a representative to the legislature.

The Steamer Claudine is on the berth to sail for regular ports of call on Maui and Hawaii this evening, leaving the wharf at five o'clock. A number of passengers have been booked for the Big Island.

Hot Fire From Great Guns Of The Fleet Drive Back The Bulgars—Fight Extends Along Whole Length Of Lines Of Last Defense—Bulgarian Cabinet Promises The Powers Troops Will Not Be Allowed To Enter Constantinople

(Associated Press Cable)

LONDON, November 22.—Press dispatches received by the British government this morning announce the opening of a tremendous fight along the whole line of last defense, surrounding the city of Constantinople. The Bulgars are being made against the Turkish fleet and the Turkish army of the little town of Tchaatalja, and the line is already threatened by the Bulgars on both sides.

Thanks largely to the assistance which the Turkish fleet is giving, the Ottoman army is slowly but steadily driving the Bulgars back.
